ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A voice-activated system for creating medical records enabling the production of individual patient records from stored data bases responsive to specialized voice recognition commands including stored vocabulary and scripts in combination with digital imaging technologies to produce any of medical reports, consultation letters, nurses notes, and patient instruction sheets.